That postmodernism is indefinable is a truism. However, it can be described as a set of critical, strategic and rhetorical practices employing concepts such as difference, repetition, the trace, the simulacrum, and hyperreality to destabilize other concepts such as presence, identity, historical progress, epistemic certainty, and the univocity of meaning.

Overview. Moral science may refer to the consideration of what is best for, and how to maximize the flourishing of, either particular individuals or all conscious creatures. It has been proposed that "morality" can be appropriately defined on the basis of fundamental premises necessary for any empirical, secular, and philosophical discussion and that societies can use the methods of science to ...

What makes you think that it doesn't bother them personally? I don't want to say that no one has ever said, "oh fine with this on a personal level, but we should get rid of it anyway because", but to be honest it kinda defies my mental image of the people who are fighting for cultural change – these people honestly are bothered by the problems they see.
