When running a training or mentoring session, people often ask what runtime settings they should use; as if there is a magical list of settings that will always be correct for any testing situation.

LoadRunner Script Runtime Settings â€“ My Load Test

Hi, I am using for loop to repeat first transaction & after completing for loop, second transaction should start. The script work well without parameterization on one variable, but when the parameterization is used, the for loop is using same (first value) value for the entire loop.

String Manipulation in LoadRunner â€“ My Load Test

I had chased bears all over the mountains off and on for several weeks with my good friend Don, whoâ€™s a very experienced bear chaser. Iâ€™d had opportunities to shoot many bears but none got me excited enough to start shooting.
